

Title: “The second law of probability: entropy growth in the central limit theorem.”

Abstract: The talk will explain how a geometric principle gave rise to a new variational description of the probabilistic entropy, which among other things solved the long-standing question of whether entropy increases along the central limit process.